Mounce Prepares Tax Reform Plan

Chairman of College Commerce Department Writes on Lifting Farmers Burden.

E. W. Mounce, chairman of the Commerce Department of the College, has prepared the following article which he has entitled, "A Tax Program Agriculture Can Support," especially for the Northwest Missourian.

Mr. Mounce who addressed the Tax Payer's League of Gentry County at Stanberry last week and some of the facts presented at that meeting caused an interesting discussion which lasted until midnight. Stories concerning the Stanberry meeting was carried in the Kansas City Star, Post Dispatch and the Maryville Forum.

The article follows:
While business and industry in general have been in a state of depression for only little more than two years agriculture has been in that condition for ten years. Those years of prosperity, from 1922 to 1929, did not reach down to the farmer.

Statistics unmistakably indicate that the agricultural industry has been rapidly declining for several years. During the years 1910 to 1919 the farmer's income averaged 20 per cent of the total national income while during the years 1925-26 his part of the total national income dropped to less than ten per cent. In 1929 farms were valued at 79 billion dollars while in 1930 they were valued at 54 billion dollars, which represented a decline, between the year 1920 to 1930, of thirty per cent. Between 1920 and 1929 farm bankruptcies increased 470.5 per cent. The farmers' taxes are approximately three times as high as they were in 1914. The farmers' direct taxes alone, on the average, for the country, almost 33 per cent of his income. In other words, the farmer works two days a week to pay his taxes and four days a week to support his family. In addition to his direct taxes on his property he has to pay an automobile license tax, a gasoline tax, and is also subject to the State and National income and inheritance taxes. If he is fortunate enough to receive an income of such proportions, Furthermore, much of the taxes placed on industry are shifted to the consumer and this includes the whole farm population. Furthermore, the farmer is unable to shift his taxes as many are others.

Agricultural prices during the past year have declined 36 per cent while industrial prices have declined 19 per cent. No wonder the farmer is hard pressed with 7c eggs, 10c butterfat and $4.30 hogs.

While a tax readjustment will not alone solve the problems of agriculture it is undoubtedly the one paramount problem demanding immediate attention. The present exigencies of the farm problem demand both State and national tax reform—reform which will give both immediate and substantial relief.

State Tax Reform
The State Board of Equalization should cut the valuation of real estate some 15 or 20 per cent. While this would cut the local revenue it would not necessitate a hike in the local rate for the deficit or difference could be made up by increasing the income and inheritance taxes, and the corporation and franchise taxes. This would make it possible to relieve the owners of real estate, maintain the efficiency of our schools, and shift the tax burden to the shoulders of those who are able to carry the load. In Missouri the individual income tax is graduated up to $9,000—4 per cent on $9,000—and then there is a flat rate of 4 per cent on all net incomes above $9,000. Why not raise the additional revenue by graduating the income tax above $9,000, the same as we do below $9,000? There is nothing unreasonable or unjust about such a proposal.

The Corporation Income Tax might very well be raised somewhat if further revenue is needed for it is now only 2 per cent while the Federal Corporation Income Tax is 12 per cent. Even the Corporation Franchise Tax might be raised to bring in more revenue if it is needed, for it is only 1-20 of 1 per cent of capital, surplus and undivided profits.

The state aid to schools, as above discussed, should be added to by appropriations from Congress. This sum should be distributed among the forty-eight states. This is along the line of the proposals made to President Hoover by the National Educational Advisory Council.

National Tax Reform.
Congress should not enact a general sales tax or a manufacturers sales or excise tax. If a measure of either type is enacted it will mean that the common man will, to that extent, be the fellow who will "balance the national budget." The Sales Tax is expected to raise some 600 million dollars.

Congress should bring in much revenue from graduating the surtax above $100,000. The surtax is now graduated up to $100,000. The rate for a net income of $100,000 is 20 per cent, but there is a flat rate of 20 per cent on incomes of $100,000 and above. Why shouldn't the surtax be graduated on all incomes above $100,000 to reach the wartime surtax of 65 per cent during a national emergency like this? Why should we stop graduating the tax about the time we really reach the class that is able to pay?

The normal income tax is graduated up to $8,000. On an $8,000 income a tax of 5 per cent is levied. But the tax is not graduated above $8,000. The rate should probably be something like 8 per cent on an $8,000 net income and then the tax should be progressive or graduated above that amount. Congress should, only as a last resort, lower the exemptions as it is now proposed in Congress.

STROLLER

One of Dr. Foster's students suggests that he place a white cross marker at the intersection of Fourth street and College avenue, where he had his car accident yesterday.

The Stroller suggests that spring go back and stay a week or so, until she can see her shadow, before she comes out.

We might just as well call a snow storm a snow storm. It seems that about the only pleasure we can get out of March is the fact that it would be like spring if it would, but it will not.

Some one asked Strothers, down at the Forum, if that were his car covered with snow across the street. He said no, that his car was buried on down the street a little farther.

If states were adjusted to the proper places on a person's anatomy these people who slip on the ice and fall down steps could slide a long way on the momentum developed, the Stroller believes. And after all isn't conservation he watch word today.

The Stroller understands that many people at the recent National basketball tournament, at Convention Hall in K. C., were straining their necks trying to see the little child who was so lustily yelling "Come on Bearcats!" They finally took up a collection and delegated Frank Moore to find the child. With great difficulty he located the loyal Bearcat and found she was Helen Joyce.

Fray Hall reports to the Stroller that the "New Doctor" is a pianist as well as a tennis shark.

Raines-Brown

On Saturday March 12, Miss Mabel Raines, a graduate of the College, now Dean of the Junior College at Clarinda, Ia., and Sam B. Browne of New York, were married in Chicago, Illinois.

Mrs. Browne, because of her success and interest in so many important activities, was one of the best known students both in the Maryville High School and in the College, when she was pursuing her studies at these institutions. She completed her work for the B. S. degree at the College in 1925, and since that time she has been successful and has won recognition in her work.

Mr. Browne returned immediately to New York, where the couple will make their home, at the end of this school year.

The pictures of the College Tower Querns, appeared in the pictorial section of the last Sunday's edition of the St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Mr. Cook Speaks

T. H. Cook, of the faculty of the Social Science Department of the College addressed the College high school assembly at eleven o'clock, last Friday. The program was held in the College Auditorium. Mr. Cook, who spoke for twenty minutes, gave some interesting points to think about on manners and morals.

H. R. Dieterich, principal of the College High School, went to Columbia, last Friday, to attend a meeting of the Board of Control of the State High School Athletic Association.

Guess Who?

The character in last week's "Guess Who" corner was Ann Adams.

What if you were told of a dark complexioned Senior Bearcat in Maryville State Teachers College, who is well known because he is a self-made man. He is big in every sense that the word implies, and has broken into print in the big papers. Could you guess who? P. S. We might add that he has a perpetual smile.

Q. O. H. S. Peppercettes, girls pep squad, gave a party for the C. H. S. athletic teams in the Social Hall at the College, last Friday night from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m.

The decorations were characterized by the high school's colors, purple and white. Mr. and Mrs. Stalcup, students at the College, sponsored the party. Mrs. Stalcup is the sponsor of the Peppercettes.

Summer Bulletin Announces Changes

After September 1 College Will Virtually Cease to Issue 30-Hour Certificates.

According to President Lamkin the summer bulletin or catalog which is now in the hands of the printer, will announce some changes in certification and the addition of a new fee of $2.50 per quarter beginning with the summer term.

The 30-hour and the 60-hour certificates will be issued under present conditions to students who are enrolled in the College, or who have been enrolled prior to September 1, 1932. However, the requirements for the 30-hour must be completed by the first of September 1933 and the requirements for the present 60-hour certificates must be completed by the first of September 1934.

After September 1, 1932 the College will not issue the 30-hour certificate except to persons who have begun work on it prior to that time. After that date the 60-hour certificate will be a license to teach in the schools of Missouri for a period of two years, and will be renewable twice upon the completion of ten hours of college work for each renewal.

Need Better Teachers

The reasons for these changes are obvious. There are more than enough teachers licensed at present to fill all the vacancies in the schools of the state. We should look forward to better teachers rather than to more teachers.

The discontinuance of the 30-hour certificate will enable students to take freshman courses other than education in the freshman year, leaving the professional courses for the sophomore or junior year. This will enable the College to make some economies in the department of Education.

With the falling off of state revenue and the decrease in the amount of money received from the state it is not possible for us to keep up the laboratories and replace the books in the library without additional funds. Beginning with the summer quarter the Board of Regents announces an additional fee of $2.50 per quarter to be known as the library replacement and laboratory fee. When state appropriations are sufficient to maintain the laboratories and the library this fee will be removed. Moneys received from it will be segregated and used only to replace books which have been worn out, to buy expendable supplies for the laboratories, and to pay the subscriptions to publications which students wear out in their college work. It will not be used for new equipment, ordinary operating expenses such as fuel, light and water, printing, personal services including salaries, and other incidental expenditures. It will relieve as far as possible students from paying for some supplies for which they now pay and it will enable the College to keep up the laboratories and the library.

Book Rental to Be $2.

Beginning with the short course book rental for a year will be two dollars instead of one dollar only. This change will apply only to persons who enter the short course, or after. The College does not have the funds to supplement the amount received from book rentals as it was able to do previously. Students who wish to buy the books may have the privilege of doing so, but students who wish to rent books may rent them for $2.00 for a year or a part of a year. This $2.00 is the balance between the $5 deposit and the $3.00 refund.

Please note that the changes in the certificates apply only to those who enter after the first of September and that the additional fee is required only of those who enter during the summer or after. An of the Teachers Colleges are going on the above basis for issuance of certificates after the first of September. No certificate will be issued by the State Superintendent of Public Schools after that date to persons who have less than sixty hours of college work.

UEL W. LAMKIN.

Former S. T. C. Students

B. O. Willhite, Sam Edmunds and Charley Carr, all former S. T. C. students, now teaching in St. Joseph, were at the College, last Saturday.

Mr. Willhite, whose home is at Grant City and who has his B. S. degree from Warrensburg S. T. C. and his M. A. degree in industrial education, from Missouri University, is teaching industrial arts in the Benton St. Joseph Junior High School.

Mr. Edmunds, shop instructor in the Benton St. Joseph Senior High School, will attend Iowa State College at Ames, Iowa, this summer. Mr. Carr, shop instructor in the Bliss High School in St. Joseph, plans to be in school here this summer.

Banquet For Bearcats

A banquet for the football and basketball letter men of the College is being given tonight at Smart's at 6:45, by W. J. Montgomery of the Montgomery Clothing Store of Maryville.

Two Benefit Games Will Be Played in College Gym Tonight

Those who like basketball will not miss the two unusual games which are to be played at the College gymnasium for the benefit of the College track team, tonight.

The Hopkins Miller Bunch and the Clearmont Community Club play one game to break the tie which resulted after three over-time periods in their last game. The Worth Boosters, winners of the basketball tournament at St. Joseph last week, and the Conoco Oilers of Maryville play also, giving two games to spectators for the price of 25c.

These games are sponsored by the Bearcat Track Team for the purpose of raising money to buy track sweaters for the lettermen of that sport last spring. Both games should prove to be very interesting and exciting. The Miller Bunch-Community Club game will be a battle since it is a grudge fight. The Worth Boosters-Conoco Oilers game should be a tough fight since the Conoco Oilers were not allowed to play in the tournament which the Worth Boosters won.

Faculty Members Present Program

Instructors in Conservatory of Music Appear Before Regular Assembly.

An entertaining program of musical numbers was presented by Miss Ruth Morris, Miss Marjorie Barton, and Herman Schuster, of the faculty of the College Conservatory of Music, last Wednesday morning at the regular College assembly hour.

For the first number on the program, Miss Morris played two movements of the "Sonata Virginalesque" on her famous violin. These two movements are called, "In the Woods," and "In the Quarters." There are three movements in this number Miss Morris said. She explained, and then proceeded to demonstrate that this particular piece is written in modern style and that it is full of strange, weird harmonies depicting colorful plantation life in old Virginia.

Miss Marjorie Barton, who played all of the piano accompaniments for the program, then played, "On Wings of Song" by Mendelssohn-Liszt and La Campanella by Liszt. The latter charming piano number, La Campanella, so perfectly executed by Miss Barton is supposed to represent little bells.

For the third and last part of this much appreciated program, Mr. Schuster sang two numbers in his fluent and pleasing manner. The first of these was "The Spirit Flower" by Campbell, while the second number was the sweet and familiar song, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes."

VERSES

IN THE SPRING
(An experiment in Japanese tankas)
On the window ledge
Daffodils in my blue jug
Smile their golden smiles.
I sit at my desk poring
Over dusty old volumes.

A bird in the tree
Outside my window, singing,
Tells me spring is here.
I sit at my desk, poring
Over dusty old volumes.

Daffodils and bird,
You tantalize me sorely.
Don't you know I loathe
Sitting at my desk, poring
Over dusty old volumes?
—MATTIE M. DYKES.

The above poem was written by Miss Dykes, of the faculty of the English Department of the College, when she was in Chelsea, London, England, last year. It is published in "The Rectangle" for March, 1932.

Concerning this type or style of poem, Miss Dykes says:

"The tanka is a Japanese poem consisting of thirty-one syllables divided into five lines, thus: five in the first line; seven in the second; five in the third; seven in each of the last two lines. It is unrhymed and is free as to accent. The older Japanese tanka followed one inflexible rule; it always had a caesural pause after the third line. Though this rule had held for over a thousand years, it was broken about thirty years ago by a group of younger Japanese poets who resolved to write as their fancy should dictate in the matter of the caesura. American poets who have chosen to use the form have tended to follow the freedom of the younger Japanese." The Americans frequently write the tankas in a sequence, as Miss Dykes has done.

A Leap Year Dance sponsored by the girls of Residence Hall was given last Saturday night. Decorations were of a green color scheme. There were ferns, shamrocks, portulacas of green crepe-paper. Thirty five couples danced to the music of Buster Strong's Orchestra.

Dr. Thomas Makes 2 Addresses Here

Secretary-General of Federation of Education Association Talks to Forum.

In a most interesting and enlightening address given before the Men's Monday Forum yesterday noon, Dr. A. O. Thomas, Secretary-General of the World Federation of Education Associations, with offices in Washington, D. C., gave the following facts:

1. Education is the biggest business in the world. Taking into account the number of teachers in all the different divisions of our education system, the makers of textbooks, the architects, electricians and all others directly and indirectly interested there are more than one-fourth the entire population of the United States economically dependent on this business or profession.

2. This country is interested in material things, as evidenced by a bread line of 2700 men which Dr. Thomas saw in Philadelphia, early one morning in February, last year, while on the same morning he saw as many or more people standing in line in the same city waiting to buy $6 tickets to the shows. The inequality seen in this situation is a disgrace to our nation and is breeding discontent and eventual ruin.

3. Dr. Thomas believes in social, economic and religious changes to meet the present conditions. He believes that unless drastic changes are made in our governmental, economic and political machinery at once, that in less than ten years great social changes will be forced upon this nation by the suffering masses.

4. No crisis can come out of the present nation alone. They must respect each other and work together.

5. The people must have a safe place to invest their money. The government must put a ban on individual and corporate falsity in selling securities throughout our country. Individual and corporations should be required to have license to sell securities and the securities should represent actual value.

6. The World War is at the bottom of the evils of the present time. It threw millions of people into unusual lines of work and now they are out of a job. It is the basic cause of our terrible financial situation today. Dr. Thomas said that the man who had paid $2500 on a home and then lost it because of present conditions could figure that he is paying a part of the cost of the World War. Other costs of the war will be visited upon our children to the third and fourth generations.

7. Because of the millions of people discontented and out of work at the present time, we are likely to see a crime wave in this country in the near future which will be much more terrible than the one which is now upon us.

8. Whether or not we can control the machine and the situation confronting us depends upon how we use our brains. Dr. Thomas seemed to believe and he expressed the sincere hope that out of it all will come a new social sense and a higher civilization that we have ever known.

Dr. Thomas' address to the Men's Forum yesterday was preceded by an address given before the students and faculty members of the College, at a special assembly at 10 o'clock in which the famous educator who for 12 years was Commissioner of Education in charge of public schools of the state of Maine, told of the wonderful changes which he had seen during his lifetime. He emphasized the many opportunities and responsibilities now confronting the present day teacher and urged that they be used for the advancement of civilization through national and world wide cooperation and respect for individual nations.

Record Spring Enrollment

For the last several years the enrollment of students in the spring quarter has been approximately 100 fewer than the enrollment of the winter quarter. This year there are a few more students enrolled for the spring term than there were for the spring term last year. The enrollment at present is the largest in the history of the institution for this season of the year.

Miss Olive DeLuce Addresses St. Joseph A. A. U. W. Chapter

Miss Olive DeLuce, chairman of the Fine and Industrial Arts Department of the College, addressed St. Joseph branch of the A. A. U. W., last Wednesday afternoon at the St. Joseph Y. W. C. A. Auditorium on the subject, "Early Arts of America."

The lecture given before more than 200 people dealt particularly with architecture and furniture and was illustrated by slides of early New England houses and the interior of rooms and furniture in the Metropolitan Art Museum in New York City.

Among the views shown were Hawthorne's House of Seven Gables and Paul Revere's Home in Boston, the Ballroom in the Old Tavern at Alexandria, Virginia, where Washington and Lafayette danced, and the interior of the beautiful home of Henry Powell, mayor of Philadelphia during the Revolution.

At the request of the Maryville Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution the lecture was repeated at the College for a special group last Sunday afternoon.

Pair of Starlings Are Captured on Farm Near Here

A pair of rare birds, for this locality, were recently brought to W. T. Garrett, chairman of the Biology Department of the College, for identification.

On investigation Mr. Garrett has found that the birds are known in their native range of Europe and Asia as Starlings (genus sturnus, species vulgaris).

The birds, which were introduced into New York in 1890, are quarrelsome and are masters of the English Sparrow. They are about the size of the common Black Bird but they have a shorter tail. They have a yellow conical bill and are marked with purplish black feathers tipped in yellow.

This pair of birds was found roosting in a barn with some pigeons, on a farm near Maryville, and were brought to the College by Mr. Monroe, who says that they are rapidly becoming more common on the farms in this community. It is reported that the birds are known as a great pest in the cherry orchards in Michigan.

President Lamkin Returns From North Central's Meeting

President Uel W. Lamkin returned to the College, last Saturday morning, after having spent the week in Chicago, where he was called on business in connection with the Board of Reviews and other commissions concerned with the work of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Mr. Lamkin said that the College was given a high rating by the Association, as were the other State Teachers Colleges in the State.

Last Thursday, President Lamkin drove from Chicago to Whitewater, Wisconsin, where he visited the State Teachers College in that city, during the day, and met with the faculty of the institution in the evening.

Concerning the College at Whitewater, Dr. Lamkin said that it is very similar in many ways to our own college, having 604 students enrolled at the present time, while we have 610.

Party at Residence Hall

Last Wednesday night the second floor girls entertained the other girls of the hall at a pajama party. The chief entertainment of the evening was the Hollywood Revue. Marguerite Waltemath as Deloris del Rio was master of ceremonies; Juanita Marsh acted as Jean Crawford; Marjorie Morgan as Harold Lloyd; Marjorie Constable as Joe E. Brown; Maude Waltemath as Eddie Cantor; Lillian Noelsh as Anna May Wong; Lenore Skelton as Janet Gaynor. In addition a reading was given by Dorothy Whitmore and a pianologue by Charlotte Wood.

THE HONOR ROLL

Last week a former S. T. C. student, now in a southern university, received this letter from its president:

"Obviously the leadership of America has come from minds of the first rank. From this group will come men and women of vision, insight, faith, and perseverance, who can grapple successfully with the intricate problems of our modern life.

Forty-Two Men Are Out for Track Team

But Coach Davis Faces Hard Task Replacing 10 Athletes Lost From Last Year.

With but eight of last year's 18 lettermen in track, and three other lettermen of former years out for the squad this season, Coach Davis has what seems to be a very difficult job to pick winners in sufficient numbers to insure victory on the track and field, this spring. Graduation, and other conditions took heavy toll of lettermen from last year's squad which won all of their six dual meets.

There are 42 men out regularly for track, and with the early prospects developing normally, the squad should round up in fine shape for the first meet of the season, which will be held at Columbia in the New Brewer Field House on April 1, when the colleges and the University of Missouri vie for honors in a meet of limited events.

With co-captains, Stalcup, a broad-jumper, and Bruce, a quarter-mile, the six lettermen of last year, and the additional strength of three lettermen of previous years, Knapp, a high-jumper, R. Smith, a distance runner, and Bricksen, a discus thrower, the new material will try for honors in the dual meet between chosen sides tomorrow afternoon, Wednesday March 23, at 3:00 o'clock on the College Field.

DEBATERS ON TRIP

Donald Robey and Lowell Galt, College debaters, together with Orville C. Miller, debate coach, left Maryville, Friday afternoon at four o'clock for St. Benedict College at Atchison, Kansas, where they met "a debate" team representing that institution in an evening debate.

At Salina, Kansas, the Maryville debaters met the Kansas Wesleyan team in afternoon and night debates. In the afternoon meeting the boys' debate, one side of the question and at night, they argued for the other side of the question. Resolved: "That Congress Should Enact Legislation Providing for the Centralized Control of Industry."

Sunday, March 20, the College speakers met the Kansas Aggie team of Manhattan, Kansas, in an afternoon debate, after which the group returned to Maryville.

Marriage

Miss Louise Freeman, who was graduated from the College in 1926, and who has been Registrar at the Teachers College at Dillon, Montana, resigned her work March 4 and returned to Savannah, where she was married on March 8, to Leland B. Coler.

Mr. Coler is a former M. S. T. C. student. The couple will make their home on Mr. Coler's farm near Maryville. Mrs. Coler's home town is Trenton.

C. H. S. Loses Debate

The College High School debaters, Edwin Marshall of Barnard and Leona Mae Shell of Maryville, were defeated in their debate last Friday afternoon, in the College Auditorium, by Lucille Stevens and Mildred Galloway, who represented the Martinsville High School. The Martinsville high school debaters upheld the negative side of the question, Resolved: "That the several states should pass legislation providing for compulsory unemployment insurance."

Judge Contests

Miss Cecile Gist and Miss Maxine Wood, students at the College went to Rosendale last Saturday night and judged high school contests in interpretative speech. The students were assisted in the judging by Clinton Morris, a former S. T. C. student now teaching near Rosendale.

College Community

By your industry, clear thinking, and eager attention, you have placed your name on the Honor Roll of the University during the Fall semester. The President and the faculty wishes to extend to you their sincerest congratulations and their heartfelt good wishes.

That university, through its president, has shown a student that it is proud of him, that it believes in him. The writer does not mention grades, for he realizes that grades in themselves are unimportant. It does, however, emphasize ability, industry, clear thinking, and eager attention, qualities of leadership. These the emphasis is rightly placed. Grades will remain on a college transcript; minds of this type will grow beyond the confines of an institution. When we do recognize tomorrow's leaders, why is it that we cannot always determine the elements of their strength?

the grim business of helping rehabilitate friends, caring for those who were injured, and identifying the dead.

Scenes reminiscent of war days were enacted at Northport, hardest hit of all. National guardsmen patrolled the ruins. Many residents of Northport saw the twister coming and making a noise "like racing automobiles." It was black and moved slowly they said and at times seemed to stand still then move on.

Druid City hospital in Tuscaloosa was overrun and the university of Alabama gymnasium was turned into an emergency station. University students did heroic work in ministering to the injured.

After the last of the dead and injured were removed from the ruins last night, the rain stopped, the clouds lifted and a full moon broke through to cast eerie shadows about the gaunt remains of homes.

Huge strips of corrugated roofing were driven through the air and wrapped around trees and telephone poles like pieces of paper.

A big white bulldog sitting in a torn and twisted automobile presented a pathetic picture. He looked neither to the right nor left and bared his teeth to all who approached.

Agricultural Work In High School Here Wins Lee's Praise

The Vocational Agricultural Department of Maryville High school was highly commended by Charles A. Lee, state superintendent of schools, in a letter received recently by the office of Supt. J. L. Lawing.

The letter follows:

"I have the report of the Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture, Guy E. James, who visited this department in your school recently. He reports a pleasant and profitable visit with Superintendent Lawing and L. O. Gutting the instructor. I am pleased to know of the increased enrollment of interested farm boys. The report indicates that these boys are really working and have set up definite goals and objectives for accomplishment in the project work.

"A large number of farm surveys had been made with the idea of securing more first hand and practical information upon which to base the course of instruction with the students. Special emphasis is being placed upon projects and much attention is being given the project plans.

"Another thing which the school officials may justly be proud is the outstanding accomplishment of the Future Farmer Chapter. I assure you I am very glad to note the above statements of commendation.

"Because of the good report submitted, I assure you I am very glad to release state and federal funds for the continuation of the vocational agricultural work in your school."

Mapel Issues Survey

A survey on newspaper work and working conditions prepared by William L. Mapel, assistant editor of the American Boy and former head of the school of journalism of Washington and Lee University, has been received at this office. It is a report prepared from answers of 303 newspaper and magazine workers dealing with opportunities and salaries and with collegiate preparation for newspaper work. It was presented by Mr. Mapel at a convention of Sigma Delta Chi late last year.

Fire Destroys Home

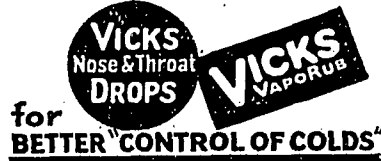

Fire of unknown origin Sunday destroyed the home of Glen Thomas, near Clearmont. The fire started at 1:30 o'clock and was not discovered until too late to save the contents. Only a few pieces were hurriedly carried out. The loss is not covered by insurance.

Robbers Escape With $3,800 Loot At Marionville

Pair Burn Hole in Bank Vault After Capturing Town's Officers.

Marionville, Mo., Mar. 22—(AP)—Using an acetylene torch two robbers burned a hole through the safe of the Bank of Marionville this morning and escaped with approximately $3,800 after capturing four men, two of them officers.

The robbers worked in the bank nearly four hours, while their prisoners lay face downward on the floor, their hands tied behind their backs. All telephone wires leading into the town were cut and the local cable system was severed.

Parking their car in the street at the side of the bank building, the robbers ran a hose from a large acetylene tank in the rear of their car through a window into the bank and burned a hole through the safe. They took all the cash and currency and escaped on Highway 60 about 6 o'clock.

Capture Two Officers
The men drove into town about two o'clock and took Mose Gaines, night policeman, and Dick Morris, his assistant, prisoners after asking them for aid in obtaining gasoline for their car. They marched their prisoners to the bank building where a front door was forced open. They then went to a bakery nearby, where they made Aubrey McDowell, the baker, a prisoner.

After adjusting their equipment, they forced the three prisoners to aid them in turning the safe around. Later they imprisoned McDowell's father, who appeared at the bakery.

Shortly before the robbery was completed a bakery truck driver from Springfield passed the bank and saw the robbers at work. He went to a nearby home to obtain aid but, believing that he was one of the robbers no one would go with him to the bank.

Phone Service Delayed
The prisoners spread the alarm as soon as the robbers left but there was a delay in notifying the sheriff's office at Mt. Vernon, as telephone communication had been cut off.

Three years ago R. C. Turrentine then cashier, and members of his family were held prisoners in their home during the night while bank robbers waited for the time lock on the safe to open. Then they forced Turrentine to accompany them to the bank where they used the safe of $3,000.

The car used by the robbers last night was a green 1929 Ford sedan. The robbers were described as "large men".

Is Jailed on Assault Charge.
Harry Ruch of near Clyde pleaded guilty to common assault this morning before Newton Long in justice court at Ravenwood, and was sentenced to serve fifteen days in the county jail and pay costs of $13.90. Ruch was arrested this morning by sheriff's officers after his wife had filed a complaint against him. Officers said she told them her husband threw some cord wood at her and poured cold water on her.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pierce arrived in Maryville Sunday evening from Greeley, Colo., where they have been living to spend a few days visiting with Mr. Pierce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pierce. They will go to Newkirk, Okla., in a few days to make their home.

How to Escape FLU and Grippe

- 1 Avoid so far as possible the places where germs are most likely to be spread; overcrowded cars and public meeting places; overheated, stuffy rooms.
- 2 Be careful of close contact with others and beware of all coughers and sneezers; breathe through the nose, get fresh air, but avoid drafts or chilling.
- 3 Get lots of rest. Drink plenty of water. Keep the bowels open. Take extra precaution to keep in good physical condition, so your system will have normal resistance against germs.
- 4 Try, particularly, to avoid catching cold. Colds lower your resistance to disease germs. At the first sign of any cold, take Bayer Aspirin; remain indoors if possible until your cold is gone. And if you have a sore throat, dissolve some Bayer Aspirin tablets in water and gargle; this relieves the soreness, and it usually reduces the inflammation.
- 5 If you have any reason to suspect even a touch of flu, call your doctor at once.

Miss Gaffey Speaks

Miss Bessie Gaffey home demonstration agent, discussed the planting of perennial borders, rock gardens and outdoor living rooms Wednesday at the meeting of the Maple Grove club at the home of Mrs. George Howard. In part this talk included how, when, where and what to plant; that flowers should have shrubs as a background; and the borders should be on the same scale as the size of the yard. It is preferable that the front line of the border be irregular rather than straight. Rock gardens, bird baths and lily pools should be along the borders and look as if nature had planted them there instead of man. This was the third lesson on home grounds, the others were on trees and screening.

There will be at least two demonstration yards entered in the county Beautification campaign.

The members of the club to plant shrubs or trees are Mrs. Tom Longfellow, Mrs. Jess Snyder, Mrs. Joe Bird, Mrs. George Howard, Mrs. L. M. Bird, Mrs. Delbert Glass, Mrs. Harold Crane, Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. Eugene Crane, and Mrs. Troy Crane.

Senator Norris Has Made Great Record This Term

Veteran Nebraskan Has Won Two or Three Big Fights Single-Handed.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.
Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, foremost political independent in American public life, is the hero of one of the most extraordinary single-handed legislative accomplishments ever achieved.

With the Norris Lane Duck amendment at last passed and on its way to state ratification and insertion in the Constitution, the Norris anti-injunction law passed by enormous majorities and the Norris Muscle Shoals bill up again under unusually favorable circumstances, this is certainly Uncle George's big year and no other member is offering him any competition. They are almost exclusively Norris measures.

Others, Mass Efforts.
Previous constitutional amendments—those for prohibition and woman suffrage, for instance—have been put over by mass action and propaganda of strong groups, the names of members of Congress attached to the legislation being merely those of the men who sponsored it.

But now one man's efforts are changing the Constitution. Norris hammered away year after year, fighting for a thing that was obviously right, making Congress more quickly responsive to popular will and destroying the evil of the "lame duck" system.

He made the Senate pass his resolution repeatedly, was repeatedly balked by the administration House machine and finally, with a new set-up in the House, saw it go through in this session. A constitutional amendment is obviously a major piece of legislation, but the other Norris measures may be ranked as of equal importance.

A Hearty Blow for Labor.
No heartier blow was ever struck by Congress for the rights of American labor than when it passed the Anti-Injunction bill, by votes which were nearly unanimous in both Houses.

That measure destroys the power of controlled or prejudiced judges to help employers break up strikes by drastic legal assaults on strikers, declares labor's right to organize and bargain collectively as a public policy, outlaws the "yellow dog contract" which forbids employees to join unions and provides for jury trials in contempt cases.

Various anti-injunction bills were introduced over a period of years, but labor leaders and members of Congress disagreed among themselves over the provisions which were necessary or most desirable. About four years ago Norris, as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, took that legislation under his own personal wing and began to iron out differences. More and more teeth were put into his bill as time went on and it was as a Norris proposal that it went out on the floors of the two chambers to victory, although the House bill had a difference of two, which remained to be ironed out in conference.

A complete Muscle Shoals victory will be more difficult because of the likelihood of another Hoover veto for the Norris government operation plan and the doubt whether it could be passed over that veto by the requisite two-thirds majorities.

But Norris unquestionably will continue to be victorious in his long battle to keep the Shoals development from the power companies.

In this session he has continued to demand in his bill that the government retain the project, that provisions be made for transmission lines for power, that safeguards be stringently erected which will prevent the "power trust" from grabbing the plant under guise of wishing to make fertilizer for farmers and that states, counties and towns be given surplus preferential power rights.

A Norris Muscle Shoals bill is reasonably sure to pass again. The old administration House machine usually opposed all measures sponsored by the veteran Nebraskan progressive, but Democratic Speaker Jack Garner has been a supporter of the Muscle Shoals bill.

The measure ranks in importance with the Lane Duck amendment and the Anti-Injunction bill because it involves the promise of cheaper electricity for consumers and the important issue of government operation.

Iowa State Glee Club Sings Two Concerts Here

The Iowa State Glee Club of Ames, under the direction of Professor Tolbert MacRae, appeared in two programs in Maryville today. This morning at 10 o'clock at the College the glee club gave a concert before the student body. At noon the club appeared before the Rotary club at the First M. E. church. The group was well received in Maryville.

The twenty-nine persons in the group presented a varied program. The club opened the program with "Stately Stands Our Alma Mater," followed by "Land-Sighting," by Grieg. Returning to the platform they sang, "Lift Thine Eyes," by Logan and "Ma Little Banjo," as encores.

Quartet Sings

Director MacRae then introduced the Iowa State Quartet which sang two numbers "Songs My Mother Taught Me" by Dvorak, and "The Drum," by Gibeon. As an encore the quartet sang, "Trees," by Carrie Jacobs-Bond.

The club again returned to the stage to sing three numbers, "My Bonny Lass She Smileth," "Wayfarer's Night Song," and a novel number, "Johnny Smoker," which won an ovation.

The club features on its program a columbia brass quartet composed of Norman Levine, first trumpet; Charles Bild, French horn; Bergen Raynor, second trumpet; Manley Hoppe, trombone. The quartet played the quartet from Rigoletto, "Kathleen Mavourneen," and "Finale to William Tell Overture." "The Rosary" was played as an encore.

Three numbers by the glee club, all in keeping with the Lenten season, closed the program. The numbers included "Twenty-Third Psalm," "Invictus," and "Were You There When They Crucified the Lord."

The accompanist for the glee club is Rosalind Cook.

Beware of a fat that smokes easily

Protect your digestion with Crisco—the fat that deep fries without smoking

Do you follow the old rule—"When a fat smokes it's ready to fry in"? Don't! Remember that a smoking fat is burning. And a burnt fat is decomposed fat—indigestible.

Protect your digestion by frying with a fat that does not smoke at correct deep-frying heat. Crisco does not smoke if you follow the bread-cube test (see Hawaiian Fritter Recipe).

Crisco-fried foods are easy to digest. Why? Because Crisco itself is digestible. It is not just a "compound." It is a pure, wholesome fat, made by Crisco's own secret process to keep sweet, fresh and digestible!

Serve Hawaiian Fritters tonight. Your husband will love their fruitiness. And if his digestion tends to be touchy, he'll thank you for frying them in digestible Crisco!

These fritters taste great. But will they agree with me?

Don't you worry! I tried them in Crisco, the digestible cooking fat.

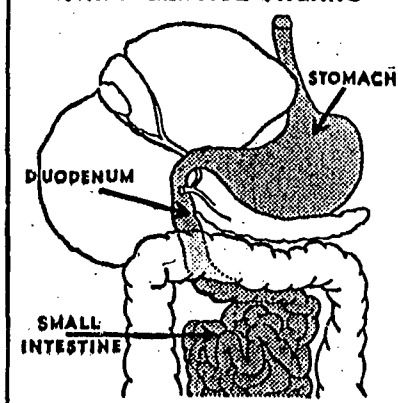

HAWAIIAN FRITTERS

1 cup flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1 cup bananas, cut in small cubes

3/4 cup crushed pineapple
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 egg (beaten)
2 teaspoons melted Crisco
CRISCO for frying

Mix and sift dry ingredients; add pineapple juice, lemon juice, beaten egg and Crisco. Mix well, then stir in bananas and pineapple. Remember that tallowy fats that smoke at correct frying heat make foods hard to digest. Fry in Crisco, the wholesome fat that makes food digest easily. Drop by tablespoons in deep hot Crisco (300° to 375° F.) at a heat that browns inch cubes of bread in 60 seconds. Crisco won't smoke at this proper frying heat. Fry about 3 minutes and drain on unglazed paper. Dust with powdered sugar and serve as a dessert—or serve plain with meat. Simply strain the Crisco to free it of particles that might char. Then it can be used for frying again and again, as Crisco never carries the odor or taste of one fried food to another.

THE DIGESTIVE ORGANS

At these 3 danger points, ordinary fats may cause digestive troubles. Crisco digests easily.

Cheap fats may turn rancid or indigestible CRISCO [IN VACUUM TIGHT CAN] stays fresh and digestible

In the cooking school conducted last week under the auspices of The Forum, Mrs. Frances Northcross used and recommended Crisco, the modern shortening that digests easily.

Pirate Manager Faces Hard Task, Observers Agree

Club Is Pre-Season Puzzle With Doubt Over Whether It Can Click.

San Francisco, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, once one of "the teams" to beat for the National League pennant, but more recently falien by the wayside, will take the field this season as doubtful contenders.

At third base and in center field, Pittsburgh is fortified. Harold "Pie" Traynor still is rated the best third sacker in baseball. Lloyd Waner will do until another fly chaser comes along.

But around these two stars is built a club that is a pre-season puzzle. It may or may not click.

Manager Is Worried.
George Gibson, making his second debut as manager of the Pirates, is frankly concerned with the keystone combination of his infield unit. Tommy Thevenow, shortstop, is a crack fielder, but dismally weak at the plate. Vaughn, a recruit, has been filling in. While described as "a great prospect" by Manager Gibson, he has shown a lack of stability.

Two youngsters who had some experience at the position last season are battling for second base, with Tony Piet holding the edge over Howard Gross. At the present, Gus Suhr, with plenty of experience, has first base sewed up. Gibson says his hitting, poor last year, has improved.

Paul Warner Not Up To Par.
Paul Warner, elder brother of Lloyd, will patrol right field as usual, but he does not impress observers how as he did when he broke in a few seasons ago and topped the league in batting.

The left field berth is open with Adam Comorosky, Forrest Jensen, Gus Dugas, and Dave Barbee in the running.

Comorosky has shown a tendency to become an "on and off" performer. Jensen, also a holdover, is not a consistent hitter. Dugas, recalled from Kansas City where he hit over .400, may win himself a steady job if he can continue to club the ball. Barbee, a slugger, drafted from the Coast League, has not had much chance yet to show his ability.

A Good Catching Staff.
Gibson managed the Pirates before, in 1920-21 and part of 1922, but before that he was a peppery catcher for the team. Gibson says he is satisfied with his catching staff.

It includes Hal Finney, Earl Grace, holdovers and Bill Brenzel, rookie purchased from the San Francisco Missions.

Pittsburgh's pitching staff is manned by veterans. Gibson thinks they will stand up. He also expects some help from a couple of youngsters. Ray Kreymer, Larry French, Ervin Brame, Steve Swetonic, Glenn Spencer, Charlie Wood and Henry Meine are holdovers, with Meine in the role of "holdout" at present. Harris, Niggeling, Swift and Bivin are youngsters who have shown promise.

Spring Sports Schedule of M. U. Has Been Arranged

Columbia, Mo., Mar. 22.—(AP)—Six track meets, sixteen baseball games and eight tennis matches comprise the University of Missouri spring sports schedule for this year.

The schedule, virtually as heavy as any in recent years despite the fact the athletic department has put into effect a rigid economy program, was approved late yesterday by the committee on intercollegiate athletics.

The track schedule: April 16, Washington U. at Columbia; April 23, Kansas Relays; April 30, Drake Relays; May 5, Iowa State at Ames; May 14, Kansas at Columbia; May 20 and 21, conference meet at Lincoln.

The tennis schedule: April 14, Kansas at Lawrence; April 15, Kansas State at Manhattan; April 16, Oklahoma at Norman; April 30, Kansas at Columbia (unofficial); May 5, Iowa State at Ames; May 16, Nebraska at Columbia. Baseball: April 9, Kirksville at Columbia; April 16, Washington at Columbia; April 22-23, Oklahoma at Columbia; April 29-30, Kansas State at Manhattan; May 2-3, Kansas at Lawrence; May 6-7, Kansas at Columbia; May 13, Iowa State at Ames; May 16, Luther College at Decorah; May 18, Northwestern at Evanston; May 17, Washington at St. Louis; May 20-21, Iowa State at Columbia.

American League Leads National in Games Won

New York, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The American League has piled up a winning average of .650 in twenty games with the National League so far this spring training season, winning 13 games and losing only seven.

These figures are hardly significant of the comparative strength of the two circuits, however. All 13 of the American League's victories have been chalked up by the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics, favored in most quarters to finish one-two in the junior circuit. The big losers among National League clubs, on the other hand, have been the St. Louis Cardinals and the Boston Braves.

Two Basketball Games At College Here Tonight

A double-header basketball card has been arranged for tonight at the College gymnasium. Both games are being played for the benefit of the M club of the College to purchase sweaters for last year's track men.

The first game begins at 8 o'clock and is between the Miller Bunch of Hopkins and the Clearmont Community Club, two of Nodaway county's strongest independent teams. These two teams recently fought to a 33 to 33 tie at Clearmont.

The second game will be at 9 o'clock and will be between the Conoco Oilers of Maryville and the Worth Boosters. The Boosters won the Y. M. C. A. tournament at St. Joseph last week, while the Conoco crew, one of the favorites to cop the tourney, was disqualified.

Johnny Lisle and Robert Dowell will officiate both games.

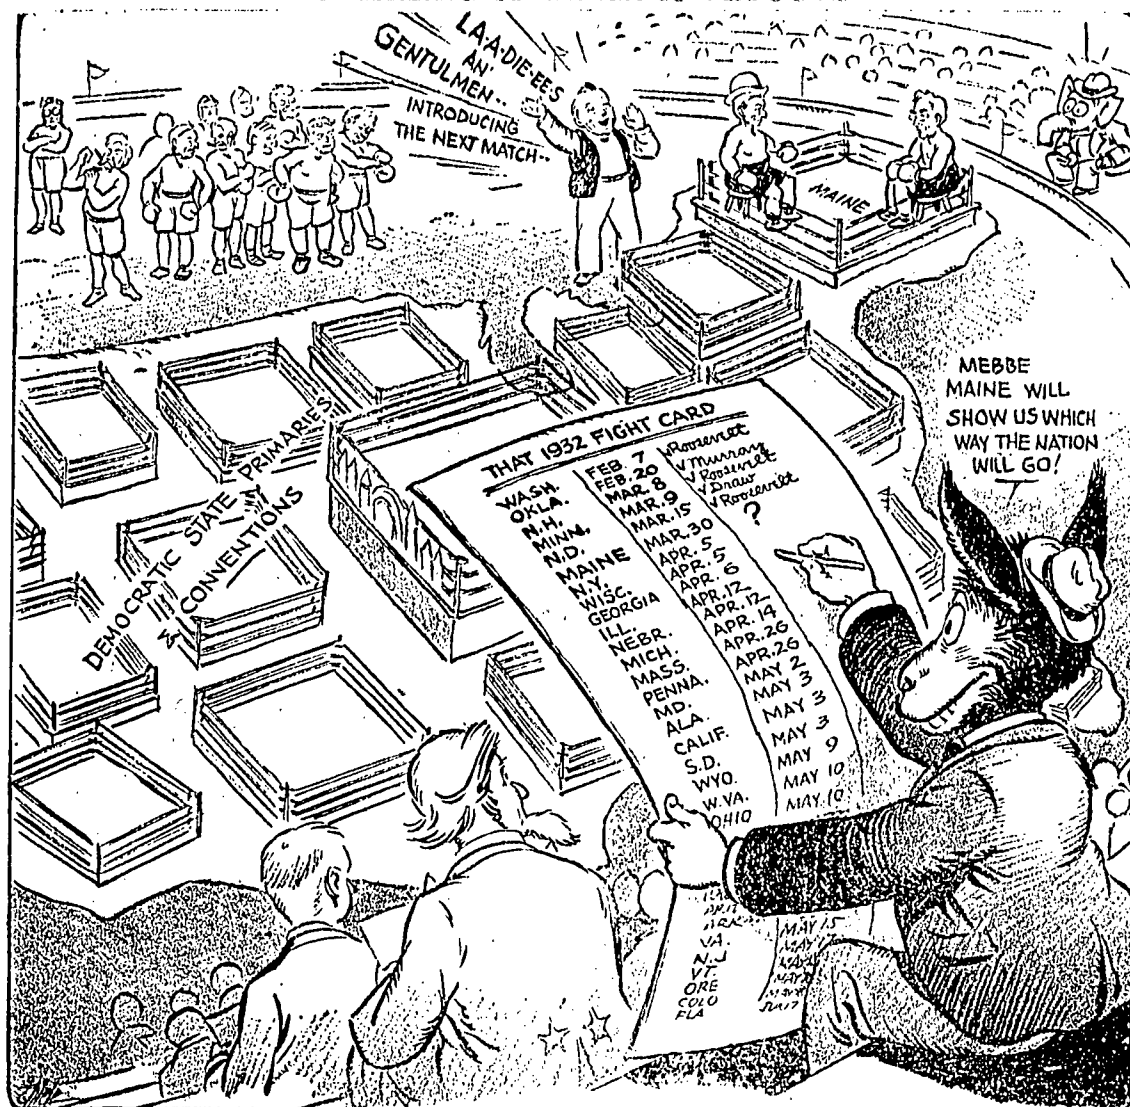

Only Six Letters Are Awarded Cape Cage Men

Only six varsity basketball letters were awarded this year at Cape Girardeau, while three men were merited with provisional letters. Those who received varsity recognition were Walter Ford, Claid Bragg, Russell Devore, Fred Masteller, Lee Erickson and Willard Hubbard. These six men played the required 120 minutes of competition, suggested by the Varsity Club and approved by George Flamank. The close competition in many of the Indians' games resulted in less substitution than in previous years. However, the work of Camille Huber, William Crabtree and Don Pritchard merited them a provisional letter. This means that if the men win letters next year they can wear stripes on their sweaters showing they won letters this year.

Play For Title in May.

The Nodaway County High School Athletic Association's championship baseball series will be played the week of May 1 to 6 instead of April 1 to 6. John H. King, secretary of the Board of Control of the Association, said today that the first games of the league were not scheduled to start until April 1 and five weeks were necessary to play off the schedule before getting into the championship games. The winners of the north section and the south sections will meet and the winner of two out of three games will be champions of the county.

with the CRANKCASE DRY to prove the PENETRATION of Germ Processed Oil and Value of the "Hidden Quart"

"Hooley!" jeered one of the bystanders in a Muskogee, Oklahoma, filling station when F. J. Morgan told how the "Hidden Quart" of Conoco Germ Processed Oil had protected many cars from harm when run with the crankcase empty.

To prove his point, Mr. Morgan had the Germ Processed Oil drained from his crankcase and, accompanied by the doubter, started for Checotah, 27 miles away.

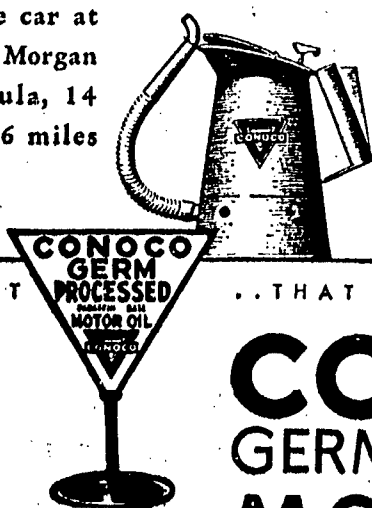

A crowd met the car at Checotah, but Mr. Morgan drove on to Eufaula, 14 miles farther, 41.6 miles from Muskogee. Chevrolet mechanics tore down the motor and pronounced it undamaged. The doubters became believers!

The oil that protects a motor under such conditions will give you better, safer lubrication in every-day driving! Conoco Germ Processed Oil is the only oil that actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces. That's why a "Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and never drains away. It cuts down costly starting wear, saves gas, gives your motor longer life, with fewer repair bills.

Change to Conoco Germ Processed Oil for safer, surer lubrication.

We neither encourage "dry crankcase" experiments nor guarantee success under all conditions. But unsolicited letters from motorists, now in our files, tell of this and hundreds of other runs with empty crankcases but without damage.

THE END OF ENMITY.—When a man's ways please the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him. Proverbs 16:7.

To the casual observer the kidnapping of the queen of St. Pat's ball at the University last week so that she couldn't be crowned by the Engineering students may seem a trivial matter, one that is entirely out of the line with the purposes of the students at the school. However, to the initiated, the incident illustrated the rivalry between two groups of students comparable to the rivalry between the two dominant political parties. Old traditions are maintained by the students who pursue their various vocations at the University. For instance, the Engineers consider themselves the guardians of the greensward around the ancient columns of the rectangle on the Red Campus, and they maintain their dignity by wielding paddles on fearless trespassers.

The Law students flaunt their dignity and jibe the engineers and challenge their authority just as might be heard in a political campaign when a Democrat alludes to the tariff. Resulting from such rivalry there occur such incidents as the "kidnaping" of the Queen. Youth must be served and of course there are times when the ingenuity of students may appear to run beyond bounds propriety.

Especially is this the case when the rivalry between two schools becomes so intent that injury may result. The morning papers say that members of the law school at Columbia have resorted to the court, asking that peace bonds be posted.

The public is always ready to censure students or a student body, but it must be remembered that there must be an outlet for pent-up enthusiasm after hours over calculus or dry briefs.

Wilmington, Del.—"Look out folks, I'm coming," said Peggy Henderson, 25, as she tripped merrily off the roof of a four-story building. She hit an electric wire, bounced and landed standing up. KITTY FREW

By Jane Abbott

SYNOPSIS: Recently a bride, Kitty Frew finds herself working in a store, because her husband Gar would rather live with his wealthy parents than get a job. She tells his half-brother David that Gar will come for her. Although Gar's mother influences him against her Kitty expects him to agree to work.

CHAPTER 18

"I'll Take the Night Train"

Mrs. Frew turned to her mirror and carefully put into place a lock of hair that had escaped Cora's attention.

"Mrs. Garfield has been homesick, doubtless. There is no need for your concern, Pound. She may have gone to her home for a little visit, and Gar knows, of course?"

Pound shifted uneasily from one foot to the other.

"She didn't go home, madam. She went to Mr. David's. I gave the address to the driver."

Mrs. Frew's astonishment at that was more than she could control. Her voice took a higher note.

"But, Pound, you are mistaken! Kitty—Mrs. Garfield never has met David!"

Poor Pound, he had lived to sixty-two in service, obedient to the slightest command. Mrs. Frew's statement commanded. He obeyed.

"She knows him, madam. She met him here. Mr. David comes sometimes to have dinner with his father." He waited, his kindly wrinkled face marked with distress. He was betraying Mr. David!

Mrs. Frew appeared to be weighing what he had said. Except that her mouth was drawn into a thin hard line she gave no sign of any emotion. After a moment she walked to a desk in the corner of her room and took from it a checkbook. She filled in one of the blank sheets, unhesitatingly, blotting it carefully.

"This covers your wages for the rest of the month, Pound. You may go this morning. And under the circumstances, into which I do not think we need go, you can expect no references from me, of course."

For a moment Pound's old body stiffened under a wave of anger. He opened his lips to speak, then closed them. He bowed his head, took the piece of paper, shutting the door carefully, softly behind him.

Mrs. Frew stood quite still looking fixedly at the closed door. Her brain was working with a cold, hard precision that kept in check her mounting triumph.

Cora came back to finish the work Pound had interrupted.

When Mrs. Frew was dressed she told Cora to summon Mr. Gar.

"He slept in the blue room last night, madam. I didn't know—I thought Miss Cora'd brought home a guest and I knocked—"

"Wait, Cora, before you call Mr. Gar. Get the Wickes Placement Agency on the telephone. I have dismissed Pound."

Gar was awake, heavy-eyed, when Cora delivered her message through an inch of open door. He was trying to collect just why he was here, in the blue room. His head ached—probably the stuff Burkett had gotten for them last night had been rotten. There was something he'd planned to do first thing this morning. Oh, yes, Kit—She'd been sore last night. He had to make up with her. Well, he'd been sore, too, the way she'd jumped on him. That was why he'd slept down here! But she must have worried, maybe thought something had happened to him—

He'd run upstairs before he went in to see his mother. He moved to get out of bed and then dropped back on his pillow. "Gee, what a head! Guess I was tight last night. Glad Kit wasn't there—"

Then he remembered, with sudden clarity, just how Kitty had looked. She'd said something about going away. A vague uneasiness took hold of him. He got up hastily and looked about for a robe of some sort; he must find Kitty at once. And, there being no robe, he wrapped a blue silk coverlet around his underclothes, in which he had slept, and went, two steps at a time up the stairs to his room.

Three minutes later he burst into his mother's room, the blue coverlet still dragging at his heels, his face white, his eyes dark with horror.

She had expected he would come like this. She met him halfway from the door, and put steady hands on his shoulders. "I know, dear boy." Her voice was deep with compassion, tenderness.

"She said she was going—but I didn't think she meant it. She was terribly mad, mother. I guess I've been rotten. I guess maybe I acted rotten last night—I can't remember—"

"Calm yourself, Gar. Kitty has gone home. Pound put her in a taxi."

"Last night? But she didn't have any money—"

"She must have had some money, Gar, that you did not know she had."

Gar remembered the money with which Kitty had bought her dress—she hadn't let him know she had that. Perhaps she had had more than she'd hid away somewhere. Maybe she had gone home. He dimly remembered her saying something about going home—

"I'll wire to Bridgewater. I'll take the night train."

"Wait, son." Mrs. Frew sat down in a chair and mentioned to him to draw one close to her. "You must not rush into anything. You must think of the future. Hasn't Kitty done a rather childish, undignified thing, going off like this? I cannot believe that she was justified in any piggy—she is devoted to her. We have done everything we could to make her happy here—"

"You've been wonderful, mother."

"If you rush after her now, Gar, it is certain that she will do it again. Wait and let Kitty see for herself how silly she is acting. In a few days you'll have a letter from her begging you to forgive her for the distress she has caused you. Then you can go to Bridgewater."

Gar's face had brightened. He caught his mother's hands and squeezed them boyishly. "You're the greatest mother I fellow ever had. This way you see things out."

She smiled her gratitude for his tribute. She left her hands in his.

"I hold my motherhood as my most sacred responsibility. I must always be ready to help you out, Gar, to think things out. You must always know that I never have told you what papa I felt over your hasty marriage. I've feared for its outcome and I've prayed that it may bring you no unhappiness. I know you'll come to see—as I saw at once—that Kitty is not our sort."

"And it is for us to make her over, to teach her that our standards are a little different from those she had known, to be patient with her when she makes mistakes, to help her."

The days are getting longer, so the Broadway reporters will have the chance to get a little sunburn again—going home in the morning.

A middle-western young woman who was holding down a high powered advertising job with a department store 18 months ago, now is making a few dollars a week by commuting to Newark every afternoon for a couple of hours of stenographic work.

"Life is so simple, now, I'm beginning to like it," she said when she came to the house for tea. "I've got a hall bedroom and don't feel called upon to dress up. When I had a big job, I thought I ought to live up to it. I kept an apartment too big for me, entertained and went out all the time, and was worried about dressing the part."

It's Come To This

In front of the Palace the other day a vagabond panhandler was parading around with a bottle of tonic in his hand. He went from one loitering vaudeville to another, showing them the inscription on the label, "Take after every meal."

"Please," he'd say, "can't you fix me up with the price of a doughnut so's I can take me medicine?"

And I know you'll just be too excited to learn that the elevators in one big store hauled 26,000 passengers an hour during a sale.

MARKETS

Wheat Declines Sharply; Corn Is Carried Lower

Chicago, Mar. 22.—(P)—Stop loss selling swept wheat values down today to the lowest levels since Oct. 10 last.

Most traders construed as bearish a variety of official statements from Washington referring to proposed export sales of government financed wheat. It was contended that the grain could not be sold unless it displaced wheat which would have been obtained from some other country.

Prices of all cereals broke in sympathy with wheat, corn outdoing the season's bottom record.

Wheat closed flurried, 1½c to 2½c under yesterday's finish, corn ¾c to 1½c down, oats ½c to ¾c off, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2 cents.

Chicago, Mar. 22.—(P)—Influenced by unexpected downturn in wheat quotations at Liverpool, grain prices here underwent an early general setback today. Liverpool reported confidence shaken, and millers withdrawing from the market. Opening ¼c to ¾c down, wheat afterward sagged further. Corn started unchanged to ¼c off and subsequently showed a decline all around.

Eastern interests were reported as active sellers of wheat. One of the reasons ascribed was unsettling market effects of a statement by the wheat advisory committee of the federal farm board. This statement recommended that stocks of wheat held by the farm board be moved promptly in order to save storage charges, and that con-

Nodaway County Democrats Pledge Support to Reed

Convention Endorses Former Senator for President of U. S.

Apportionment Decided

Each Township Will Have One Delegate To State Convention Except Polk. Which Gets Four.

Nodaway county Democracy, once split over James A. Reed, pledged its support to the former United States senator for president in a resolution adopted today at the Democratic county convention when delegates to the state convention were selected.

United support was indicated when the convention endorsed one of the staunch Jim Reed men of the county, James B. Robinson, as one of the delegates from the Fourth Congressional district to the National Democratic convention at Chicago in March.

Floyd Cook, local attorney, had been mentioned by the Jefferson club as a possible choice for delegate from this district but he withdrew in favor of Mr. Robinson, president of the Nodaway Valley bank, when the latter said he would consider the offer.

Decide on Apportionment
By the motion of the business and permanent organization committee which was unanimously adopted, the twenty-five Democratic delegates to the state convention at St. Louis on March 28 were to be named in the following manner:

One delegate from each of the townships except Polk.

Four delegates from Polk township, to be selected one from each ward.

And seven delegates at large from the county to be selected by a committee of five.

The convention was called to order by John K. Sawyers, chairman of the county committee. George P. Wright, local attorney, was placed in nomination for chairman of the convention by M. E. Ford, who offered a motion that the secretary of the organization send regrets to L. C. Cook that he could not be present because of illness. Mr. Cook has presided over the Democratic county conventions for many years.

Committees Appointed
Mrs. Charles Ferguson of Burlington Junction, delegate from Nodaway township, was elected secretary of the convention.

The following committees were appointed by the chair:

Permanent organization: M. E. Ford, C. F. Sisson, Fred Yeomans, M. L. Fakes, Joe Smith.

Resolutions: Floyd Cook, Gabe Percell, John Rush, William Job, Lon Oakerson.

Credentials: James Smith, Sherman Hefflin, Hugh McDonald, Mrs. R. L. Byers, Guy C. Clary.

In a short opening speech, Mr. Wright said it was an honor to preside over God's honest people—a Democratic convention. He spoke of the era of prosperity that this country enjoyed during the regime of Woodrow Wilson and predicted that in November a Democratic president would be elected, "when the flag would be returned to the people and taken away from special interests."

Resolutions Adopted

The following resolutions were adopted:

"Be it resolved by the Democrats of Nodaway county in convention assembled that we re-affirm our faith in the fundamental principles of government promulgated by Thomas Jefferson, and particularly that of the arch of Democratic faith, 'equal rights to all, special privileges to none;' that we re-dedicate ourselves to their continued support and maintenance, and their application to the solution of all governmental problems as exemplified by the official acts and conduct of Andrew Jackson, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson; and believing that our nation should return to those fundamental principles, we endorse James A. Reed for president of the United States and request the delegates chosen at this convention to vote at the St. Louis convention for such delegates to the national convention as will support Senator Reed for the nomination for president of the United States.

"We further request our delegates to the St. Louis convention to present James B. Robinson of Maryville as a delegate from the Fourth Congressional district to the Chicago convention; and we further request our delegates to support Judge William T. Ragland and Honorable Ewing Y. Mitchell as delegates-at-large from Missouri to the said convention. We endorse William T. Kemper of Kansas City as national committeeman from Missouri and Mrs. Charles B. Farley of St. Louis, as national committeewoman from Missouri.

"That in order that democracy in fact as well as in name may be put into force and effect in the management of the affairs of the people, in order that public business may be conducted with genuine, not spurious economy, in order to promote the public welfare, instead of to increase party spoils, we heartily commend the economic admin-

Stenographer Has No Enthusiasm for Adventurous Life

Boston, Mar. 22.—(AP)—Elizabeth Franklin, a stenographer who for the past 10 weeks lived unwillingly in luxury, was one typist who today had no yearning for adventure.

Miss Franklin sat at her desk in a north end office on December 22 addressing Christmas cards. In the midst of her task, Frank Gustin, alias Wallace, rushed into her office, fell near her desk, and died, a victim of gangster bullets.

At that moment, Miss Franklin became the material witness. Wallace, leader of the Gustin gang, and Bernard Walsh had been slain by rival gangsters in what police believed was war for control of the local alcohol traffic. A roundup of members of the Lombardi gang ensued, and police escorted the terrified stenographer to a fashionable hotel.

A police woman was assigned to guard her, and for 10 weeks Miss Franklin lived in the hotel, rode in taxis and saw the best of plays, at a cost to the county of some $800.

Yesterday, Joseph Lombardi, Salvatore Congemi and Franklin Cucchiara, were freed by a grand jury investigating the Gustin and Walsh slayings. With their release, Miss Franklin stepped happily back into the quiet life of a stenographer.

"The quieter the better for me," she said as she left the hotel for home.

Caulfield Will Not Be Candidate for U. S. Senator

Governor's Statement Had Been Long Awaited By G. O. P. Chieftains.

Jefferson City, Mar. 22.—(AP)—Gov. Henry S. Caulfield announced today that he would not be a candidate for United States senator.

At today's press conference the governor handed the following statement to reporters:

"I deeply appreciate the kindness of those who have suggested my name in that connection, but I have decided that I will not be a candidate for the office of United States senator in the approaching primary election."

Discuss Probable Candidates.

In political circles it was believed that the governor could have had the Republican nomination without major opposition.

With Gov. Caulfield out of the Senatorial picture, speculation immediately turned to probable candidates. Among those mentioned most prominently were former Congressman Cleveland A. Newton, of St. Louis; Congressman L. C. Dyer, of St. Louis; Attorney General Stratton Shartel of Neosho, and former Attorney General Jesse W. Barrett, also of St. Louis.

W. Blodgett Priest of St. Louis has announced that he will be a candidate, but in political circles doubt was expressed that he could rally a statewide following.

Newton Is Strong.

Gov. Caulfield did not elaborate on his brief statement. His decision had been awaited for weeks by Republican politicians.

Of the possible candidates mentioned, former Congressman Newton is believed to have the greatest following, but he had indicated he did not desire to make the race. Strong pressure now is expected to be made on him in an effort to induce him to change his mind.

Apache is Given Life Term for Slaying Girl

Globe, Ariz., Mar. 22.—(AP)—Mac Seymour, young Apache, faces life imprisonment for the murder of Miss Henrietta Schmerler, 23, Columbia university research student.

Federal court attaches said his conviction by a jury last night virtually means a death sentence. All Apache Indians ever sent to prison in Arizona, except one, have died after less than seven years behind the walls.

They said grief over the loss of companionship of the tribesmen and the freedom of the open country was responsible. Seymour appears in federal court today for formal sentence. His attorneys plan to appeal.

In cross examination the Indian denied his direct testimony that he slew Miss Schmerler. He said he acted in self-defense after she pined him with liquor, tantalized him and then, in anger, attacked him with a knife.

The student was slain the night of July 18 while on a trip with Seymour to a Fort Apache dance.

Mrs. J. S. Ford left for Baltimore, Md., Friday evening to spend several weeks with her daughter, Merle.

Isolation of the affairs of Nodaway county as the same are being conducted by the County Court, and pledge them our loyal support."

Senate Rejects Move to Slash Dry Law Funds

Blaine Had Proposed Virtual-ly to Eliminate Entire Appropriation.

Sales Tax Vote Today

Estate Tax Proposal Will Also Come Up For Decision in House—Wheat Committee Wants Money.

BULLETIN.

Washington, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The Romseyer amendment to boost the estate tax in the new revenue bill to a 65 per cent maximum on estates in excess of $10,000,000 and over, was adopted today by the House.

The vote was 190 to 149.

Washington, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The Senate today rejected a motion to eliminate virtually all funds for prohibition enforcement from the Justice department appropriation bill.

Without a record vote the Senate rejected a move by Senator Blaine, (R. Wis.), which would have cut the appropriation from $11,369,500 to $370,120, retaining only the amount necessary to maintain the offices of the enforcement bureau here.

MAY SEEK OTHER REVENUE SOURCES

Washington, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The House today plunged into the midst of a controversy over estate and sales tax provisions in the billion dollar revenue bill while the Senate was confronted with a prohibition dispute.

An agreement was reached for the House to vote today on the two disputed sections of the measure while the ways and means committee was trying to decide how to raise $140,000,000 eliminated by excluding food and clothing from the sales tax.

Acting Chairman Crisp of the ways and means committee said that if the sales tax were rejected the one cent tax per gallon on imported oil also would be stricken from the bill. He added that if the manufacturers tax were eliminated the ways and means committee would reconvene and seek other sources to produce the $600,000,000 to balance the budget.

FARM BOARD WANTS FUNDS TO FINANCE SALES

Washington, Mar. 22.—(AP)—Rapid sale of farm board wheat in non-competitive foreign markets through appropriation of new funds for export financing was urged today by the wheat advisory committee.

The committee, composed of representatives of farm cooperatives assisted by the board, opposed the Gore bill which would impound the remaining 150,000,000 bushels of stabilization wheat. It said:

"We believe that it is to the best interests of agriculture for this wheat to be disposed of in places where United States wheat does not usually go. Also this wheat should be moved as promptly as possible without depressing prices so as to have further storage costs."

New Jersey State Police Criticized in Lindbergh Case

Hopewell, N. J., Mar. 22.—(AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. was born 21 months ago today and kidnapped just three weeks ago. And the world still has no idea where he is.

The ominously recurring phrase "still missing" is wearing down the resistance of parents and teachers. Chief Detective Elmer Hahn of Haddon county said yesterday he believed the baby will be returned through Col. Lindbergh's private negotiations, but not until state police have withdrawn.

An opinion that certain angles of the case ought to be considered by the grand jury when it meets April 12 was expressed by the sheriff, in whose county the Lindbergh house is situated.

The New York Daily News quoted State Senator Emerson L. Richards of Atlantic City, majority leader of the Senate, as saying "state police" are bungling this case thoroughly." He said as soon as it was over he would demand an investigation of the activities of Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf head of the state police on this entire fiasco.

Chicago, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The Daily News said today that H. Wallace Caldwell, member of the Chicago board of education, had established contacts with Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and agents of the U. S. secret service because of anonymous information which he believed came from the kidnappers of the Lindbergh baby.

Caldwell, a former naval pilot was reported to have made two visits to the Lindbergh home at Hopewell, N. J., recently.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Antrim and daughter Opal and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Dickey drove to Sioux Falls, Ia., Thursday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Antrim's son, Ralph, and Mr. Antrim's brother, Ed and family. Mr. and Mrs. Antrim and daughter returned to Maryville Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Dickey will make their home at Sioux Falls.

Mrs. Perry Antrim and daughter Thelma Jean of Guilford stayed at the Antrim home with the Misses Neva and Dorene Antrim while their parents were away. Mrs. Perry Antrim and her daughter returned home Sunday.

Candidates May Be Endorsed By Each District

G. O. P. Plan Would Avoid Worst Features of Election At Large.

Will Be Discussed Here

County Convention Saturday May Be Asked to Instruct Delegates For A Congressional Candidate

In view of the fact that the state Republican convention may endorse congressional candidates by districts, the Republican county convention that meets here Saturday may be asked to instruct its twelve delegates to the state convention for a congressional candidate. In all probability the present congressman, David Hopkins, would be the choice of the Nodaway Republicans.

The instruction of the county delegates may come about because of a resolution to be offered by William Sacks of St. Louis, Republican state committeeman from the twelfth district, to the state convention at St. Louis on April 12, in accordance with suggestions made at the last meeting of the state committee.

One From Each District

Under the resolution the delegates from each of the Congressional districts proposed by Governor Caulfield will choose a candidate for Congress, and the thirteen so chosen will be recommended by the whole convention to the Republican voters of the state at large at the next primary election.

This resolution will be offered, it is explained by Mr. Sack in a letter to The Forum, as some persons have pointed out the possibility of all the thirteen congressmen being chosen from one section of the state, leaving the other sections unrepresented. The object of the resolution to prevent this "grouping" is to provide a slate of candidates chosen by districts to be voted on at large.

The resolution, if passed by the Republican state convention, would have delegates from the respective counties to caucus at a time and places designed by the chairman according to the districts they represent. Thus the delegates from Nodaway county to the state convention would caucus with the delegates from the First district, a group of fourteen Northwest, Missouri counties as proposed for a congressional district by Governor Caulfield when he vetoed the congressional redistricting plan as passed by the assembly.

A Large District

The delegates from these fourteen counties, by a majority vote, would certify to the convention a candidate for representative in Congress and the resolution as proposed would have the state convention recommending to the Republican voters of the state the election of the first district congressional candidate and the other twelve selected by the other districts at the primary to be held August 2.

District No. 1 by the Caulfield plan comprises the counties of the old Fourth Congressional district, and eight of the counties of the old Third Congressional district. The Third district is now represented in Congress by Jacob L. Milligan, Democrat, from Richmond. The county delegates in the old Fourth district who would vote in the district caucus in district No. 1 are Worth, Gentry, DeKalb, Clinton, Harrison, Davless, Caldwell and Mercer. Clay and Ray are the other two counties in the old Fourth district, and they would vote for two candidates with districts No. 2 and 3, composed of the counties of Clay, Jackson, Cass, Ray and Lafayette.

TORNADOES KILL MORE THAN 200 PERSONS, DAMAGE MUCH PROPERTY IN FIVE STATES

Alabama Suffers Heaviest Loss In Series of Storms

Wrecked Communication System Hampers Relief In Many Areas.

Hundreds Are Injured

Birmingham, Ala., Mar. 22.—(AP)—At least 214 persons were killed in a series of tornadoes that struck widely separated communities in five southern states last night and early today.

Alabama suffered most heavily. Restoration of crippled communication lines brought in a steadily increasing number of casualties. Just before noon the total for this state stood at 169. Thirty persons were known to have been killed in Georgia, 12 in Tennessee, two in Kentucky and one in South Carolina.

Property loss was heavy but no attempt has yet been made to estimate the extent. Hundreds were injured and scores of persons told of narrow escapes. Roads in farming communities were blocked by trees and debris and public as well as private buildings were damaged.

Man Whose Home Was Demolished Tells of Tornado

"Houses Were Shooting Straight Up" All Around, Farmer Says.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following eye witness story was written for the Associated Press by Will Radien, whose home was demolished by the tornado which struck Northport, Ala., yesterday.

By WILL RADIAN
Tuscaloosa, Ala., Mar. 22.—(AP)—I was in my house, my wife and I, when I first heard the thing coming. It sounded like a freight train. In fact, I thought it was, since I live right close to the tracks.

My wife got scared and flustered—you know how women are—and she started running around in the open but I was flying through the air so I dressed, grabbed her and we tried to get to a big white house across the field.

We didn't get more than 100 yards, though, when it hit us so I grabbed her and we laid down between two cotton rows. I looked back at my little house—it was blown to pieces and houses all around it looked like they were shooting straight up.

I know we'd have been killed if we hadn't gotten out of the house when we did. It sure was terrible.

I got a stepson, Arthur White, over there somewhere, but I don't know where he is. He said this morning he was going to Moundville. I sure hope he did.

I was not hurt very bad. My foot and leg were injured and my wife only got her hand hurt.

I guess we were lucky to get out alive.

California Delegation Will Be for Garner, McAdoo Says

Washington, Mar. 22.—(AP)—William G. McAdoo said after a conference today with Speaker Garner, that while the Texan was not seeking the Democratic presidential nomination the boom for him was growing and California would send an instructed delegation for him to Chicago.

The former Democratic secretary of the treasury, who heads the Garner-planned state of delegate candidates in the California primary in May, flew here last night on business and called on Mr. Garner at the Capitol to pay his respects.

"We didn't discuss politics," Mr. McAdoo said, "but as I was leaving I expressed to him the opinion that while he was not seeking the nomination, California would send an instructed delegation for him just the same."

SCENES OF DESTRUCTION
Birmingham, Ala., Mar. 22.—(AP)—Out of the confusion following the death dealing tornadoes that lashed Alabama yesterday and last night, many strange sights presented themselves today and stories of heroism were plentiful.
